

Mike Gifford, CBCP, MBCI
AVP & IT Risk Manager for the Capital Group Companies

Michael Gifford, CBCP, MBCI, is an Assistant Vice President and IT Risk Senior Manager for the Capital Group Companies Information Technology Group. He oversees the Global Disaster Recovery Program and Access Administration. His team's scope includes crisis management, emergency response and recovery, risk assessments, recovery strategy development, recovery plans, and business continuity/disaster recovery exercises, access administration and periodic access review administration.

His previous information security responsibilities included IT audit support and IT risk issue tracking and remediation.

Prior to joining the Capital Group Companies in March 2005, Michael was the Director of Audit Assurance and Regulatory Programs for JPMorganChase's Global Technology Infrastructure team. He was the Director of Disaster Recovery for Bank One's Infrastructure and Operations (I&O) team within Technology and Operations prior the merger of Bank One with JPMC in 2004. Previously, he worked in the insurance field in a number of leadership positions.

Michael completed his Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from the University of South Dakota's School of Business. He holds numerous credentials including Certified Business Continuity Professional (CBCP) Member, Business Continuity Institute (MBCI). Michael was the founding President of the Alamo Chapter of the Association of Contingency Planners.